Vimy Smoker Was Huge Success

Members Packed Clubroom For Big Annual Event.

Many persons were turned away on Friday evening last from the Coleman Canadian Legion clubrooms on the occasion of their annual Vimy smoker. At 8 p.m. the clubrooms were packed and latecomers were unable to be accommodated. Harry Garner made the Vimy address and paid a stirring tribute to the stellar role the soldiers of Canada had played in uniting the nation and helping it to take its place as a mature world power.

Mr. Sid Short, who presided over the evening's affairs, thanked Mr. Garner for his inspiring message to the members and then called upon Mr. James Lowe to present Fred Hirst with his past president's badge. Fred has been one of the mainstays of the Coleman Branch since his return from overseas duty in World War 2 and the packed clubroom testified to this by a thunderous ovation at the completion of Jim Lowe's appreciative remarks and presentation of the badge. In between numbers, the thinning ranks of First War veterans exchanged banter with their younger comrades who now comprise the bulk of Coleman Legion membership. In most cases the banter soon evolved into a highly technical argument concerning the comparative strategies used in widely separated action as Passchendaele and Cassino.

However, it was "Vimy Night" and the old time warriors were usually accorded recognition that the "Ridge" was a battle that compared with the "Gap" by any military standard. The musical portion of the entertainment was supplied by the following artists:

Vocal numbers by Bobby Lloyd, Bill Martland, Henry Holmes, Harry Parkinson, Ralph Lonsdale, Bill Lonsbury, Bert Bond, Adam Wilson and Bud Clark, who stole the show with an Aria from "Aida"—and humorous instrumental numbers were played by Shorty Hovan and his Old-Timers, Accordion solos by Danny Cocolone and piano solos by Wilfred Mason.

Coleman Tennis Club Reorganizes

The reorganization of the Coleman Tennis Club was accomplished at the season's initial meeting held in the Council Chambers on Sunday morning last. Mayor Abousafy and Councillors Wood and Nicholas and representatives of the Sports Association attended the meeting to aid in drawing up plans for putting the Courts in the best possible playing condition.

The Town will do the work of levelling the area and provide the surfacing shale while the Sports Association under the direction of George Jenkins will look after the surrounding fences. The buildings formerly used in connection with the Open Air Rink were also donated by the Town to provide the Club with dressing rooms.

Hillcrest Lad First In New Hospital

First Three Patients To Enter Were From Coleman Union Hospital

First patient to actually cross the threshold of the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Monday morning was Seward Tabor, seventeen year old youth from Hillcrest, who was recently injured in an accident that occurred at the East Kootenay Power Plant at Sentinel. Tabor, was accompanied by two other patients from the Coleman Miners Union Hospital, Joseph Polak, 63, and a twelve year old lad, Keith Krish, of Coleman.

Tabor, being a stretcher case was the first to be taken into the hospital when the trio arrived from Coleman at approximately 11 a.m. The hospital had actually opened its doors at 8 a.m. but all other hospitals in the Pass were apparently empty and it was three hours later when the trio from Coleman hospital arrived to give the spic and span institution an air of practical usefulness.

They were admitted to the Mack Stigler ward, which was furnished by the Coleman Elks. Nurses, ward aides, orderlies and other hospital attendants who had been nervously awaiting their first patients in the same manner as theatrical performers awaiting cues in the wings swung into practical service immediately and by early afternoon the affairs of a modern hospital were being conducted with all the smoothness and aplomb of "Big City" hospitals.

Later in the afternoon four other patients were admitted from various Pass towns. Proof that the modern facilities at the C.N.P. Hospital will attract many people from outside the Hospital ratepaying district was furnished with the admittance of a patient from Natal, B.C., Mrs. Kay Sonnikoff. The other patients admitted in late afternoon were Mrs. S. Jugrik, of Blairmore, Isabel K. Carlyle, of Bellevue and Fred Melnyk, of Coleman.

Purchase Of Tractor Still Live Issue

Fire Chief Given Authority To Take Necessary Action Re Fire Hazards Caused By Old Buildings

The question of whether Coleman needs a Universal tractor to assist in the maintenance of the town was the cause of another live debate when the regular Council meeting was held in the Council Chambers, Tuesday evening. Present were Mayor Abousafy, Councillors Tibble, Nicholas, Jenkins, Wood and Ramsay.

At least two of the Councillors were definitely in favor of immediate purchase but their arguments were counter balanced by the determined opposition of at least two other members who voiced objection to the purchase at the present time. Feeling among the rest of the Council was apparently neutral on the matter and it finally decided to hand the problem over to the Works-Property and Finance Committees for further study. Cost of a new tractor would be approximately $6,000 while another machine under consideration, a second hand, reconditioned "Cat" plus necessary accessories to bring its working capacity to the new machine, would set ratepayers back about $4,200.

A report on Council's request for the co-operation of the McGillivray Creek Coal and Coke Co. Ltd. in a program to alleviate the potential flood situation in West Coleman revealed that the Company would clean culverts and do all in its power to ward off the dangers of floods in the West Coleman area adjacent to their property.

A lively discussion followed the reading of Chief Antle's Fire Report which contained a reference to the hazardous conditions caused by the presence of old buildings in close proximity to hospital in Italian town. Members were unanimous in their desire to have the Fire Chief take whatever steps would be necessary to eradicate the possibility of conflagrations in that area, or any other section of the town.

The assessment notice from the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital led to a general discussion on the manner in which ratepayers and others would be levied but the question was accepted unanimously. Future arrangements in connection with the operation of the Coleman Miners Union Ambulance were discussed following the Mayor's report of a conference with Mr. J. J. McIntyre in which it was suggested that the town make provisions to maintain the expense pending the completion of arrangements by the C.N.P. Municipal Hospital to take it over in conjunction with its own ambulance service.

Councillors Wood and Nicholas were appointed to meet with Union and Company officials in an effort to make what ever arrangements were necessary to assure the community of ambulance service, pro-tem.

Letters from the License Department seeking Council's recommendations re the granting of licenses to Bruno Michalsky of Coleman and George Kafoury of Blairmore were read and Council followed its usual custom of granting approval. Michalsky's application was related to the establishment of a Dry Goods store while Kafoury's was directed toward the setting up of a Groceries and Meats business.

Chief Antle was assured of his annual need of a uniform when Council gave immediate assent to his purchase.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank all my relatives and friends for the cards, flowers, fruit and other gifts sent to me during my recent stay in the hospital; also many thanks to Drs. Alilo, Brayton and Liesemer and the Nursing staff for their kind treatment and attention.

Radio Hut at Coleman Airport Saved By Prompt Action

What might have proved to be a disastrous fire to the Radio Hut located at Coleman Airport was successfully fought and put out by workers of H. Bouthillier and Sons. A grass fire was started by sparks from a passing locomotive about a half mile west of the hut and due to the tender dry condition of the grass the fire reached the hut in a matter of minutes. Grabbing shovels and throwing them into their car, Bouthillier and his men rushed to the scene, getting there just as the blaze started enveloping the hut.

The shovelling of earth on to the flames proved effective and outside of a little scorching the Hut escaped serious damage.

Gov't Hears Case Of Water Pollution

International Coal Co. Well Represented at Edmonton Hearing.

A suggestion that laws governing the operations of strip-mining be introduced on the floor of the legislature highlighted the Edmonton hearings called by the Provincial Government to allow the Town of Blairmore to present a brief in connection with their complaint that strip mining operations of the International Coal and Coke Co. Ltd. of Coleman near an unnamed tributary of York Creek were seriously affecting the purity of Blairmore's water supply source.

Commenting on the hearings Mayor Enoch Williams who headed the three member delegation, was quite satisfied with the reception given to the Blairmore case, and remarked, "A full verbal discussion was allowed in addition to the presentation of the brief and Messrs. LaBastie, Gray and myself took full advantage of this to stress every angle in relation to this vital, vituperative issue."

The Coleman company was represented by Mr. H. S. Howard and a legal advisor, Mr. W. Patterson, both of Calgary and Mr. J. McIntyre, superintendent of the company's operations in Coleman and Mr. H. E. Hewitt, company engineer. Questioned regarding the Provincial Government's reaction to the dispute, Mayor Williams remarked, "Well, while our brief was presented on the basis of satisfaction and Dr. Bow and Shaw, of the Health Department were present at the hearings, they also assigned a Mr. Hart, of the Attorney-General's department to the meeting and I got the impression they will also assign Provincial engineers to assist in clearing up the dispute."

It was during a general discussion on the problems brought on by increasing strip-mining developments in "pitched strata" that the suggestion was made that in all likelihood, legislative action may be necessary to control these operations with an eye to protecting the vital watersheds of nearby communities.

The Blairmore delegation also brought up the question of water from International's cleaning plants entering the Old Man river and further jeopardizing the town's water supply during the winter months when it is necessary to pump water from this source due to insufficient supply in the reservoir. They were assured by Health Department officials that all aspects of the vital problem would be studied and a decisive report issued as soon as possible.

THANK YOU

The Journal acknowledges with thanks renewal subscriptions received from Mrs. A. F. Short, of Calgary and Geo. Sangster, of the Greenhill Hotel, Blairmore.

ONLY ONE CASE IN R.C.M.P. COURT

A fine of twenty dollars and costs was a Blairmore taxi-driver's reward for being the only person to face charges at the R.C.M.P. Court at Blairmore on Saturday morning. Don Brown was fined the above amount by Fred Radford, J.P., for speeding through the village of Frank.

This has been the quietest Saturday for the R.C.M.P. in many months," commented Sgt. Murray, who took advantage of the lull to do some gardening in front of the courthouse.

The popular head of the R.C.M.P. detachment merely smiled when he considered his spade-work as "hard labor."

Mrs Joe Plante Bereaved

Lived in Coleman From 1910 To 1914. Had Resided in Calgary Since 1917.

Douglas, Norman and Verda Plante journeyed to Calgary recently to attend funeral services for the late Albert Henry Johnston, 60, who passed away at his home, 1308 3rd St. East, following a lengthy illness. Due to illness Mrs. Plante was unable to make the trip and the children made the journey to represent the family.

Born in Pincher Creek, Mr. Johnston moved to Coleman in 1910 where he was employed as a fireman at the International mine until enlisting in the 82nd Battalion in 1914. Following his discharge in 1919 he took up residence in Calgary. During the Second World War he served with the Veterans Guards of Canada, being stationed at the prison of war camps at Seebel, Leithridge and Medicine Hat. On his discharge from last war service he had been employed by Manitowick Construction Co. He was a member of No. 1 Branch of the Canadian Legion in Calgary. Services were conducted from Leyden's Home, Calgary and interment was in the Field of Honor, Burnside cemetery.

He is survived by 2 brothers Harold, of Vancouver, Wallace of Moosebank, Sask. and two sisters, Mrs. Plante, of Coleman and Mrs. Maude Funk, of Spokane, Washington. The sisters had not seen each other for sixteen years and following Mrs. Funk's attendance at the burial services she stopped off at Coleman to spend a few days at Mrs. Plante's home for a welcomed reunion.

FOUR PASS RINKS TOOK PART IN ELKS CALGARY SPIEL

Lone Coleman Rink Skipped by George Jenkins.

Jack Rushon was an avid reader of Calgary papers this past week and Jack searched vainly for the announcement that the lone Coleman rink entered had won any of the jewelry. The Coleman rink skipped by George Jenkins and comprising Joe Jenkins, Bill Gate and Sonny Richards was conceded a good chance to cop some of the awards at the Elks Bonspiel sponsored by the Calgary lodge but Jenkins and the trio of Blairmore rinks, W. L. Evans, Tony Kolnburg and Dick Ott were among the rink rats they all reported a rare good time was had despite the failure to cop prizes.

Coleman Miners Give $2500 To Hospital

Sum To Be Used For the Purchase of a Fracture Table And Accessories.

Another vital piece of medical equipment will be added to that already contained in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal hospital as the result of the decision reached by the Coleman local of the United Mine Workers of America at a meeting held in the Italian Hall on Sunday afternoon to donate twenty five hundred dollars to the hospital for the purchase of a fracture table and accessories.

William White, secretary of the local and a member of the hospital's fire-man board, made the announcement public at the conclusion of the meeting. The purchase of such a table was being seriously considered and Mr. White's announcement of the Coleman miners handsome donation was received with undisguised joy by Superintendent Florence Cameron.

"Isn't that just wonderful," said the matron of the hospital when informed of the Coleman local's generous contribution. "In this manner of support is maintained our hospital will be among the finest equipped in Alberta."

There is a practical aspect to the donation in view of the fact that fractures constitute a major portion of accidents that befall the lot of coalminers.

Last Rites Held For Bill McGrath

Funeral services for the late William McGrath who passed away last week-end in the Coleman hospital, were held from Culham's Funeral Home in Coleman on Thursday afternoon. Bill had been a familiar figure around the town for the past 27 years. He came to Coleman in 1922 from Manitoba and worked in the barber shop operated by the late F. Q. Graham for many years.

Later, he operated his own shop in various locations on Main Street before retiring to devote his interests to a small holding he had purchased on Willow Drive. Funeral services were arranged by the Knights of Pythias and conducted by Rev R. Magowan.

WHIRLING HELICOPTER ROTOR-BLADES OPEN NEW PATHS FOR CANADIAN INDUSTRY—A plaything a decade ago, the helicopter now is being put to work around the world. FAMOUS CRUSADER FOR WOMEN PASSES AWAY—Nora-Frances Henderson, 54, (above), former Hamilton controller and known from coast to coast, died in St. Joseph's hospital in Hamilton, Ont. Elected alderman in 1932 and 1933, she became Canada's first woman to sit on a municipal board of control. Re-election followed annually, and a total of 16 years' service as controller was piled up, until Miss Henderson retired in 1948. Then she was appointed executive secretary for the Associated Children's Aid Societies of Ontario. According to City Clerk James Berry, her record of 16 continuous years was the longest service of any council member in Hamilton.—S.N.S. photo.

The contempt consisted of an article published in the Mirror, held to prejudice the trial of John George Haigh, 39, company director, charged with the murder of Mrs. Olive Durand-Beacon, rich, elderly widow who disappeared from her London hotel. The paper had described him as a "vampire murderer."—S.N.S. photo.

The couple eloped two days before Patricia's body was taken from the Milwaukee river, where it was heaved by Babich with a cement block tied to one leg, after he had shot the young girl twice through the head. ## OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THEY HAVE EARS

By Louis Arthur Cunningham

THE fountain was a purple pool; the waters that fell into it were ruby red and pale blue, danced and violet; the girl who danced about the fountain's edge, pirouetting, swaying, lighter than spray, was a sprite—too lovely to be real. Presently, the dance was finished and the girl like a water-nymph vanished in the fountain's spray and was seen no more—by the watching audience of the Tuesday night performance of Water Frolics, dancing well on Broadway.

The nymph emerged backstage. She wasn't much of a swimmer. She said, "I hate this act. It's all wet." And she paid no attention to anyone, but went to her dressing-room. Her name was Louella Benet. She had rippling red hair, the ivory skin and blue eyes that are the fit companions of rippling red hair. A temper she had, too. And the usual number of men about town.

One appeared at her door just after she had exchanged the dripping chiffon of the nymph for a silk robe and was using a comb on her hair. This young man was rather slouchy, had tired, derivative eyes, wore a felt hat pulled low over those eyes and talked softly with a cigarette dangling from his mouth. A temper she had, too. And the usual number of men about town.

Louella paid him no attention, seemed oblivious of him leaning there against the door. Finally she looked his way.

"Beat it, pest. I told you I didn't want you around. You newspaper men..."

"I wouldn't have showed up to-night, Lou, only I want to put you wise about Cory Ballinger. In case you do anything rash. You may be thinking of marrying that egg?"

Louella made no answer. She stood in front of her mirror and performed the usual rites. She shook her head at swimmers do, bothered by water. She sang very softly and sweetly—"I love you truly."

Ned Byrne wasn't nettled. Six

"None So Deaf As Those That Won't Hear."

His hand pressed hers, hard. Perhaps he believed her. It didn't matter anyway, he thought, whether she loved him or thought of him alone. She loved him, and only that mattered. "Look here, baby—you don't love him, do you?"

"You love his roll. You think you'll be on easy street if you hook him. That's fair enough. I don't blame you. You'd be crazy to marry a sap like me, but this is what I came to tell you—the Ballingers are flat. Young Cory doesn't know it yet, but the old man's business has gone into the scrapheap. I'm not kidding. Lou, I'll all be in the papers tomorrow, but I had a hunch you'd better know tonight—the way you and Cory are going around. Well, don't mention it, kid."

He grinned ironically. Louella said nothing. She kept on singing. When Ned went out she made a face after him and laughed. There was a huge mound of roses on her table and Cory Ballinger's card lay atop them. She buried her face in their fragrance. And she continued to sing—"I love you truly."

Cory Ballinger was waiting for her. A nice, soft-spoken fellow, Cory; but quite useless. Millions to play with. Without those millions—oddly, Louella didn't think of Cory without those millions.

"This is the night, Louella," said Cory. "What's it going to be? But I got the license and the ring. I'm afraid I took a lot for granted..."

Her shoulder pressed his arm. He looked at her with love, and with the assurance of the Ballinger millions. Of course, Louella was one in a million, but chorus-girls, even those who are on their way to stardom, don't turn down Cory Ballingers.

"I guess you didn't take too much for granted, Cory," she answered huskily.

"You really love me?"

"Yes, I love you. You'll think I'm a little lousy if I say it's you I love, and only you. I don't think of what you are, what you have."

Ex-Mountie Is Dress Stylist In Scotland

GLASGOW, Scotland.—Gilbert (Slim) Lee, formerly of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, is in Glasgow—designing dresses.

Lee, a Yorkshire man, took a course in textiles at Leeds University when he was 20. He was left some money then went to Canada and spent it.

He sank his last bank-roll into an oil-well that produced no oil, and then joined the Mounties. Life in the force, he says, brought him many thrills. He visited other parts of the world trailing wanted men—and he always got his man.

"Best laugh I ever had," says Slim, "was when I trailed a man clear across Canada and lost him. I went back to Winnipeg and was about to report failure when I went into a restaurant for a meal. There was my man—and he even offered me a cigar."

Slim retired from the R.C.M.P. with the rank of inspector. Then, with his knowledge of fabrics, he became a designer and chief pattern-cutter for a leading fashion magazine in the United States.

He returned to Britain just before the Second World War, was rejected by the armed forces and met and married Kay Hutchinson of Beardon, near Glasgow.

They recently started their own fashion business and, employing eight girls, say they have as much work as they can handle.

Resources Of Prairie Water Power Are Good

OTTAWA.—Water power resources are greater in Manitoba than in Saskatchewan or Alberta, according to the annual review of the Dominion water and power bureau, department of mines and resources.

Saskatchewan is second in this respect with Alberta following.

The report is based on a recent analysis of water power data across the Dominion covering the period to the end of 1948.

To date Manitoba has developed 503,700 horsepower capacity. The report shows, however, that at an ordinary minimum flow 3,309,000 horsepower would be available at 80 per cent. efficiency over a 24-hour period if present power resources were developed. At an ordinary six months' flow, this could be stepped up to 5,344,500 horsepower.

In Saskatchewan, development has reached 111,335 horsepower. The potentiality, according to the report, is 542,000 horsepower at a minimum flow and 1,082,000 at an ordinary six months' flow.

Says Women Must Be Twice As Good To Get Recognition

TORONTO.—Agnes Macphail thinks there will be less talking and fever night sessions when more women get into legislative bodies.

"It's a queer place, the legislature," said Miss Macphail, CCF member of the legislature for York East. "They seem to think time runs out on March 31 and they have to get everything settled before then."

She slipped away from a night sitting of the Ontario House to attend a program marking the fortieth anniversary of International Women's Day. She told her listeners that women "have to be twice as good as men to get recognition—and they are lucky to get it then."

Politically speaking, "women are still in their prams," said Miss Macphail.

106,560 horsepower. If resources were further developed, however, this could be increased to 507,800 at an ordinary minimum flow and 1,258,000 horsepower at an ordinary six months' flow.

Development in Canada is 10,870, 725 horsepower. The potential minimum flow is 25,722,900 horsepower, and the six months' flow, 40,124,100 horsepower.

AND THE CALVES GOT OUT

"A man, who was not a subscriber to his home town paper sent his little boy to borrow a copy from a neighbor. In haste, the boy ran over a stand of bees and, in 10 minutes he looked like a summer squash. His father ran to his assistance and, failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, ruining a $18 pair of pants.

"The old cow took advantage of the hole in the fence, got in the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the commotion, his wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $100 set of false teeth.

The baby, being left alone, crawled through the cream into the parlor, ruining a brand new $80 rug. During the excitement, the eldest daughter eloped with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens, the pigs got scared, jumped the sty and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line.

"Moral: Don't borrow: it doesn't pay."

THINK IT OVER

A moth leads an awful life. He spends the summer in a fur coat, and spends the winter in a bathing suit.
We all sprang from animals, but some of us didn't spring far enough.

DUST IS EXPLOSIVE

Any fine grain dust is subject to explosion. A ninety-eight sack of flour, suspended as dust in a large room and ignited with a spark will explode with sufficient force to raise 2,500 tons 100 feet.

Hospital Rates Set For 1949

A couple of important meetings at the weekend cleared the way for the actual opening of the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital. In the absence of the Hospital Board's chairman, Mayor Enoch Williams who was in Edmonton on civic business vice-chairman Albert Hollingshead of Hillcrest presided over the Board meeting called to set the fees for various types of accommodation. The following rates were set: Hospital rate-payers, $1 per day ward service. Non-members, $4.75 per day. Members are to be given a 25% rebate across the board on all operating room, minor operations and ordinary drugs. Non-members will be charged the rates outlined by the Alberta Hospitals Association.

All patients will be charged for special drugs with the doctors given the right to determine the cost of the drugs, plus 10%. Membership cards will be sold to all non-ratepayers at a cost of $15, to cover balance of 1949. The Board also decided to reserve the right to revise above charges at a later date in the current year. A motion to publicize the rates and conditions of membership in all Pass newspapers was passed unanimously. Persons coming into the district will be given three months grace before taking out membership.

Fees for wards other than the Public Wards were set as follows: Private Wards, members, $4.00; Non-members, $10; Semi-private, members, $2.50; Non-members, $7.50. Prior to adjournment the Board instructed the immediate notification of all Pass doctors of their official appointment to the medical staff.

The last remaining obstacle to having the decks cleared for action at 8 a.m. Monday, April 11 was removed following a meeting of all Pass doctors held on Friday evening when the medical staff reached agreement on the terms whereby they will serve on the medical staff. The medical staff had advocated a few changes in their present agreement with the Miners' Union but after their latest meeting it was announced that a complete settlement had been affected. Interest is now being excitedly switched to the "Stork Derby" being sponsored by the Lethbridge Herald, for the first baby born in the hospital and the Coleman Journal's "Derby" which is confined to the first Coleman baby to arrive within the walls of the building.

People shop where they are invited—that's why it pays to advertise.

"WE AIM TO PLEASE"

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep"

Whatever our creed or language, we have all felt the impulse to pray. We may worship in various forms... we may call our God by various names... but, somehow, most of us express our faith in a Higher Power. When our loved ones are spared, we give thanks. At times of confusion or danger we call for guidance. When confronted by a mighty mountain, or the perfection of a tiny snowflake, we are awed by the wonder of life. We teach our children our faith, so that they will not be alone as they face the world.

FAITH is a family affair!

FAITH is not just for holy days. Faith is for every day... at work, at play, in the quiet times the family has together.

We need faith—and never so desperately as today. The world is filled with voices of confusion. It is easy to feel helpless and alone. But faith in a Power outside ourselves can be a bedrock of family unity and shield for family happiness.

Faith unites families for greater happiness

A return to faith can give men and women a broader view of life—a sense of perspective. Then they are better prepared for the give-and-take of family living. The family united in faith has a strong and lasting bond.

Children naturally turn to faith when it is a daily part of the family life. And when they know the real meaning of faith, they will be tolerant of those who express their faith in other ways.

The home atmosphere is far different when a family stops trying to walk alone, when it sees its place in the bigger scheme of things. It works together for the things it can control—and trusts its God for guidance in problems beyond its control. Such a family can't help feeling closer together, more sure of itself, happier!

To keep alive the family's faith calls for a positive plan—just as you plan for your family's material welfare. How your family expresses its faith is a matter of choice. What is important to you is that you do express it!

A message from the more than fifty Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their Agents.

VIGNETTES FROM THE VIMY SMOKER

Sid Short deserves a medal for the way he handled the high priced talent brought to the stage! A strong hand was needed to curb the artistic temperaments of such highly strung performers. We did hear a remark that some of them hadn't been strung high enough! Professional jealousy, that's all.

Why wasn't "Chevalier" Cooke called upon to sing his favorite number, "The Whiffenpoof Song"?

The greatest omission of the entire evening was the failure to call on Joe Spievak for his classic rendering of "When My Baby Smiles at Me", the old Ted Lewis favorite. Strong men have been known to weep copiously into their beer when Joe gives out with some of the mushiest crooning this side of a Frankie Laine recording.

Bud Clark was voted the outstanding artist at the end of the concert and a move is afoot to have Bud sent down to New York to take his rightful place among stars of the Metropolitan Opera House. Bud's rendition of the tenor aria from "Aida" drew favorable comment from the town's leading music critics, among them being such experts as Maurice "Chevalier" Cooke, "Burlington Bertie" Bond, and Coleman's answer to George Formby, Bill Marland.

"Bolton Bobby" Lloyd was also in good voice and some talk is going around that Bobby may be sent to the Toronto Conservatory of Music to further his career.

Just imagine what a quartette of Joe Spievak, Bobby Lloyd, Bill Marland and Bud Clark would sound like. On the other hand you'd better not. We did—and we've been taking Bromo-Seltzer to try to get rid of the headache it gave us!

By the way, what happened to Harry Drew? That's the first smoker Harry's missed for some time from the entertainment stage.

Evidence Of Prosperity

WITH THE PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT from wartime to peacetime economy well past, it is encouraging to observe that industrial production, external trade, and employment are still at high levels in Canada and that there appears to be little cause for anxiety regarding economic conditions here at the present time. Statistics compiled late in 1948, showed that there were then 4,858,000 employed persons, while the number of unemployed at the time the survey was taken totalled 106,000. Employment in non-agricultural industries had advanced by 75,000 during the three months preceding the survey, while farm employment had dropped by 260,000. This decrease was attributed largely to the normal seasonal decline in that type of work, and was not considered to be of great significance.

Highest Levels Of Production

In trade and industry the past year has seen the highest levels of production and external trade in our peacetime history. At the same time, the figures for income and employment have never been exceeded. These facts were included in a statement made by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, early this year. The past few years have seen steady progress in Canadian industry, with many old established concerns extending their facilities and many new ones developing. New products have been introduced and records have been made in efficiency and in cutting production costs. There has also been rapid discovery and development of raw materials and natural resources. In agriculture, there has likewise been evidence of greater economic stability. Larger farms, increased use of machinery, the practice of using land for more diversified crops and interest in the modernization of farm homes are indications that agriculture is in step with other industries in the trend of the present time.

Depends Upon Foreign Trade

Canada's most serious economic problem now centres around the fact that much of our domestic prosperity depends upon foreign trade, but because of the dollar shortage in some countries we are at present unable to sell as much abroad as we could if it were not for this difficulty. Our own population and that of the United States is continually growing, providing increasing demands for our products on this continent, but Canada has great interest in cultivating more extensive markets abroad. Developments in international trade and finance are of the utmost importance to us at this time and any adjustments in the present economic barriers between nations, making possible more freedom of movement for the products of our farms and factories would be of advantage to us and to those who have need of the things we produce.

Bear Hunters Make Hasty Retreat

TISDALE, Sask.—Two Jordan River residents who knew the whereabouts of a bear den went hunting.

It was dark when they got there, so one man stuck his head in the den while his friend struck a match.

Then both beat a hasty retreat. The flickering match showed the man with his head in the hole that it was about four inches from the head of a bear which had a nasty habit of grinding its teeth.

Maximum Of Wheat Acreage To Be Sown

—RYE, FLAX DOWN

WINNIPEG—Western farmers will be putting maximum possible acreage to wheat this year. But odds are against a high crop yield. Heavy wheat plantings are encouraged by increased guaranteed basic price of $1.175 a bu. (20c more than last year) in this final year of the present marketing plan.

Two conditions operate against chances of a high yield: there is a serious deficiency of subsoil moisture in most of the grain-growing areas; there's a heavy infestation of grasshopper eggs.

Both difficulties can be overcome by the right weather sequence—warm days to hatch the eggs, followed by wet, cold (even freezing) weather.

Normally, about 40 million acres go to grain production. Last year 23 million acres was put to wheat, 7½ millions to oats; 6 millions to barley; about 2 millions each to rye and flax.

Expectation this year is for 27 million acres in wheat—or 17 per cent. more than last year, with perhaps three millions transferred from other crops, one million from summer fallow.

While floor prices this year for oats and barley are considered reasonably good, they're not attractive enough to persuade many farmers to prefer them to wheat.

Flax production is discouraged since price is no longer guaranteed; rye, because extravagantly high prices which prevailed for a while have disappeared.

Land Phenomenon Frighten Indians

THE PAS, Man.—Frightened Indians in the Island Lake region of Manitoba called on Game Guardian Barney Burkholz to find out whether the devil uses their hunting grounds as a sleeping place.

Two Indian moose hunters reported that a 50-by-50 foot patch of ground in the area had been completely free of snow all winter. The patch is 10 miles east of Winkling Point on Beaverhill Lake, near Island Lake.

There has been no spring thaw and no apparent reason for the snowless patch of ground.

The Indians believe a devil lives nearby, and they have refused to return to the region until game officials investigate.

Officials believe an underground sulphur spring may be responsible for the phenomenon.

Big Black Beetles Chase Muskrats

YORKTON.—Trappers and Indians in northeastern Saskatchewan have been reporting recently that large black water beetles, the size of a man's thumb, are driving muskrats out of their homes.

Donald McKen of Oreada, who brought some of the beetles to Yorkton, said there were as many as a "bucket full" in many of the muskrat homes. Foxes found them edible and were tearing open the muskrat haunts to get at the insects.

NUMBER OF FEATHERS VARY

The number of feathers on a bird vary according to the species, season and age of the bird.

THE TILLERS

HERES A BOUQUET FOR YOU, MISS LORNA! WHY, THANK YOU, HUNK! THEY'RE LOVELY, BUT YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE DONE IT! AW, SHUCKS, THEY DIDN'T COST ME ANYTHING, THEY WERE GIVEN TO ME! SI SIMPKINS UP AT THE SERVICE STATION BOUGHT THEM FOR HIS GIRL, AND THEN HE SAW HER WITH ANOTHER FELLA, SO HE DIDN'T WANT THEM! HE SAID I COULD GIVE THEM TO SOMEBODY OR FEED THEM TO THE PIGS, SO RIGHT AWAY I THOUGHT OF YOU!

Coutts, Alberta, Growing In Importance As Port Of Entry

COUTTS, Alta.—The two-way stream through this small Canadian town on the United States border is turning into a flood. Customs officials haven't seen anything like it.

Increased development of Alberta oil fields has sent mammoth truck convoys of machinery and drilling equipment flowing through the primary port of entry to Alberta from the United States. The U.S. demand for Alberta sheep and cattle and other produce also has kept the rear door open much of the time.

But this is only one phase of the busy life of the 15 customs men and five immigration officers.

An average of nine automobiles carrying Canadian passengers were cleared every hour at Coutts during 1948. Almost 56,000 autos passed through the post in the one year.

With present facilities inadequate, officials have had to take over an old warehouse and part of a C.P.R. office for additional office space.

Recognizing the growing importance of Coutts as a port of entry, the federal government already has appropriated $140,000 for a new customs and immigration terminal.

Farmer Can Pay Son Without Losing Exemption

OTTAWA.—Revenue Minister J. J. McCann, informed the House of Commons that under present income tax regulations farmers paying their sons wages can pay them up to $400 per year without losing the $400 tax exemption allowed in the case of a dependent child.

He was answering a question put by John Diefenbaker, the Progressive Conservative member for Lake Centre.

The minister made it clear that the child must be employed in productive labor, instead of outside help and that he must be paid in cash.

Asked by Earl Rowe, (P.C.-Dufferin-Simcoe), how old the child must be to be eligible for such paid employment. Dr. McCann said "of such an age that his services are of some use to his father."

Mrs. Henpeck — "Everything is getting higher."

Mr. Henpeck (meekly)—"Oh, I don't know, Marie. For instance, there is your opinion of me, my opinion of you, and the neighbors' opinion of both of us."

Little Pat was an interested spectator while the Customs officer was going carefully through her mother's luggage.

When he got to the last case in which several newly-purchased bottles of perfume were concealed, Pat clapped her hands.

"Oh, Mummy," she cried, excitedly, "He's getting warm isn't he?"
